

Eco-Products Fact Sheet:

Tropical Hardwood Decking

February 22, 2007

IPE, Mangaris and Tigrewood

Tropical Hardwood is five times harder than redwood, cedar and pine. IPE, Mangaris and Tigrewood are naturally fire-resistant with a Class "A" or "B" fire ratings. They are excellent choices for decking, flooring and furniture.

Advantages

- Sustainably-harvested
- Extremely durable, consistent, and stable
- Resist splitting and splintering
- No toxic preservatives
- Numerous 50-year installations
- Virtually maintenance-free if gray color is desired
